ST. PRISCILLA PARISH
Fiscal Year ending June 30, 2010

One year ago, St. Priscilla School closed after 83 years of providing Catholic education to our children. We lived through very emotional times, but we had to face the financial reality. All our resources were exhausted and, as we all remember, Cardinal Francis George made the final decision to close the school.

The Parish was left with many unpaid school financial obligations, like $277,916 worth of loans, $11,845 in health insurance and $88,738 in unemployment compensation for the teachers. The Parish also had an unpaid balance of $80,521 for the Priests' Retirement Fund.

In order to improve our financial situation, we enforced a very stringent spending policy. We reviewed all our present accounts payable and contracts to maximize the savings and keep only the necessary services and supplies.

This year, we had two additional sources of income, the sale of the house we inherited from our deceased parishioner, Mr. James Cirone, and the Catholic Appeal Collection.

The sale of the house generated $147,835. The Catholic Appeal Collection brought in $32,100, and the Archdiocese matched this amount, for a total of $64,200. All the money was used to reduce our debt. Also, the rent from the school building is helping us with everyday operations.

In this new fiscal year that we have started, we begin with $103,684 in unpaid bills. We will gradually try to reduce them, but we have to devote our attention to the capital improvements for our Parish that had to be postponed due to lack of funds. This year, we have to repair part of the roof of the church to prevent further damage. Our main concern is the heating and cooling system, which malfunctions often. The heating and cooling system is old and the parts are very hard to find. In addition to these repairs, there are also a few places around the Parish buildings where the foundation is cracked. We also had some flooding during our recent heavy rains that we need to have fixed before the fall and winter.

As you all probably noticed when passing by our school building, it is being renovated. The new roof was installed and the tuckpointing is almost complete. During the school year, new electric wires were installed and more improvements were done inside. The Chicago Board of Education designated over $1,944,912 for the renovation and the Parish only had to contribute $66,289.

We all hope that, if there will be enough students, someday the school building can again be used to promote our Catholic religious tradition.

Please see next page for additional fiscal report information.
